7:45-8:50 a.m.	Opening Session Welcome Keynote Speaker – Dr. Bill Daggett Learning 2025: Preparing Students for Their Future, NOT Our Past Equity, social justice, Social-Emotional Learning, mental health, and a rigorous and relevant instructional program for all students are recent but critical issues that schools today are required to address. Meanwhile, the demands of the past have not gone away. The brick-and-mortar school model of the last century with the bell schedule, boundaries, rules, regulations, certifications, tenures, contracts, and a hyper-focus on meeting proficiency on high-stakes tests continue to demand attention. While the demands continue to compound, a silver lining is emerging through the hardships brought on by COVID. It has created a tipping point for many educators, policy makers, business leaders, and parents around the immediate need to transform our education system. The pandemic has also taught us that change is possible in the ways we had not imagined even one year ago. Dr. Bill Daggett will share emerging solutions to these challenges. Click to join session		 Bill Daggett, Ed.D. About Bill Daggett
